

Joint DTU-CEARC workshop in Copenhagen

- Quantitative and qualitative sustainability assessment

CEARC and the DTU are organising a French-Danish seminar on the interface between technical and social sciences in Greenland. The focus of the seminar on Quantitative and qualitative sustainability assessment. The goal of the seminar is to initiate collaborations between DTU and CEARC.

Technical University of Denmark
Anker Engelunds Vej, Building 101A, Meeting room S16
DK-2800 Kgs. Lyngby
Denmark

May 27 2015

Draft program:

09:30 Welcome and practical information

*Maria Tammelin Gleerup, Polar DTU
W. Eberhard Falck, CEARC*

09:35 Introduction to DTU Arctic Activities through Centre for Polar Activities (Polar DTU)

Maria Tammelin Gleerup, Polar DTU

09:45 Introduction to CEARC-UVSQ – Existing collaborations of CEARC in Greenland

Jan Borm, CEARC

09:55 Round the table: 5-10 minutes presentation of individual research projects and areas of interest

12:30 Lunch

13:30 Thematization of Greenland-related subjects with the aim of identifying the scope for further collaboration and concrete opportunities

Moderators: Morten Birkved and W. Eberhard Falck

Brainstorming and discussion with the proposed topics of the researchers as a starting point.

15:00 Coffee break

15:15 Continuation of brainstorming and discussion

16:30 End of seminar